

Neutra presents Leaf coffee table by Luca Martorano

Leaf, the coffee table collection designed by Luca Martorano for Neutra, offers a refined exploration of stone as both material and metaphor, balancing sculptural presence with visual lightness. Expanded this year with a new coffee table version, Leaf translates the natural poetry of stone into a contemporary design language.

Inspired by the gentle transformations of nature, the collection evokes surfaces shaped by wind and time. At its core is a striking contrast: a solid natural stone base anchors the piece to the earth, while the slender tabletop appears to float lightly above, recalling the delicate form of a leaf resting in suspension. This interplay between weight and lightness defines the collection's distinctive character.

Despite its apparent simplicity, the Leaf coffee table conveys a strong sculptural identity. The vertical "stem" provides stability and strength, while the thin, velvety surface introduces an ethereal quality, capturing light in warm, dynamic reflections. The result is a piece that feels both grounded and in motion, embodying a quiet sense of balance and upward momentum.

Crafted through a combination of advanced engineering and meticulous artisanal workmanship, Leaf celebrates the timeless beauty of marble. Each table is shaped with precision and care, echoing the traditions of classical sculpture while embracing contemporary aesthetics. The material's natural variations ensure that every piece carries a unique character.

Available in a range of sizes, heights and tabletop dimensions, the Leaf coffee table adapts effortlessly to different interiors, from intimate residential settings to more expansive, architectural spaces. Whether used as a subtle accent or a central feature, it integrates seamlessly into both classic and contemporary environments.

With Leaf, Neutra and Luca Martorano present a design that bridges past and present, transforming stone into an elegant expression of lightness, movement and enduring craftsmanship.